THE TRUTH LENDERS,
by Thuy-Dzuong Nguyen, is the world's first multimedia novel with an enclosed "Footnotes" CD of fictional songs and sounds, by local and independent musicians and producers.

What?!

The story features a pharmaceutical company and media conglomerate that delivers news as a sleeping pill with a psychedelic news anchor. This allows a "reader" to experience news stories while dreaming, an experience that takes out the intermediary and brings subjects closer to Metahistorical Truth...but there is always a catch.

OTHER HIGHLIGHTS FROM THE BOOK

1. The world revolves around a cult figure named Sammy, a woman much like Marilyn Monroe.
2. Creative people and cultural critics are hunted down and atomically rearranged into fossil fuel or clean water, considered more useful to society than the opinions they generate.
3. Honeybees are hot commodities on the exchange floor at a time when pollination has become an occupation– for unfortunate humans or voracious reptiles.
4. The New Language Model is being implemented in every Zen English class to phase out the use of language and help children attain enlightenment.
5. There are two remaining independent bands on the planet. The rest are corporate, Sammy-related, or derived from the cosmic vibration of atoms and molecules.
6. Persecuted demographics are planning a creative uprising.
